FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – March 25, 2020 (Waxahachie, Texas) The City of Waxahachie has issued a Shelter-In-Place order in response to COVID-19. This order takes effect on March 26, 2020 at 11:59 p.m., and will continue through 11:59 p.m. on April 16, 2020. This order is also in line with similar orders issued by Ellis County and other regional agencies, including Dallas County and Tarrant County.

“It is essential that this virus be slowed to protect the safety and wellbeing of our community and its citizens. The most efficient way to do so is to significantly limit person to person contact, which this order greatly limits,” said Mayor David Hill. “We are coming alongside Ellis County and other neighboring cities and agencies to strengthen restrictions to proactively combat this growing pandemic together,” said Hill.

The Shelter-In-Place Order requires that all individuals anywhere within the City of Waxahachie stay home except for certain essential activities and work to provide necessary business and government services, or perform needed public infrastructure construction, including housing.

Essential activities include tasks necessary to health and safety (including obtaining medical supplies or visiting a healthcare professional), obtaining required supplies such as food, pet food or essential household items, or caring for a family member in another household. Residents are allowed to engage in outdoor activities such as walking or running, but must comply with social distancing requirements of six feet.

Restaurants may only provide take out or delivery services during this time. Religious and worship services may only be provided through video or teleconference. Additionally, all public or private gatherings of any number outside a single household are prohibited. All elective medical, surgical and dental procedures are also not allowed.

Essential businesses include healthcare facilities, governmental facilities, governmental functions, critical infrastructure, and essential retail (includes grocery stores, warehouse stores, convenience stores/gas stations). Businesses that support food cultivation, livestock, and farming are also considered essential. Auto supply, hardware stores, laundromats, and businesses that sell supplies for people to work from home are also allowed. A complete list of allowed businesses is included in the attached Shelter-In-Place Order.

“While the Shelter-At-Home Order does carry restrictions farther, this order is absolutely necessary to protect all members of our community, especially those most vulnerable,” said Michael Scott, City Manager. “It is imperative that all of us comply and work together to stop the spread of this virus. The sooner we do so, the sooner we can return to the normalcy of our daily routines,” said Scott.

The City and its staff will continue working daily with state and local health officials and authorities to ensure that the latest information and preventative procedures are enacted for the safety of our community. Updates will be provided as they are available on the City website at www.waxahachie.com, as well as the City’s social media accounts.

- Wash hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.
- Cough or sneeze into your elbow or a tissue. Throw the tissue in the trash.
- Stay home if you are sick.
- Avoid touching your face.
- Try alternatives to shaking hands, like an elbow bump or wave.
- If you have recently returned from a country, state or region with ongoing COVID-19 infections, monitor your health and follow the instructions of public health officials and CDC guidance.
- There is no recommendation to wear masks at this time to prevent yourself from getting sick.

You can also prepare for the disruption caused by an outbreak. Preparedness actions include:

- Prepare to work from home if that is possible for your job, and your employer.
- Make sure you have a supply of all essential medications for your family.
- Prepare a child care plan if you or a caregiver are sick.
- Make arrangements about how your family will manage school closures.
- Plan for how you can care for a sick family member without getting sick yourself.
- Take care of each other and check in by phone with friends, family and neighbors that are vulnerable to serious illness or death if they get COVID-19.
- Keep common spaces clean to help maintain a healthy environment for you and others. Frequently touched surfaces should be cleaned regularly with disinfecting sprays, wipes or common household cleaning products.
